++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
A dry but quite cloudy day for most.

Today:
A dry start for most, with patchy cloud allowing for some sunny spells and the odd isolated shower in the northeast. Cloud then widely builds through the afternoon, with widespread rain arriving into westernmost areas later. Maximum temperature 19 deg C (66 deg F).

Tonight:
Rain continues spreading eastwards through the evening and overnight, heavy at times in the west and affecting most of the region by dawn. Minimum temperature 13 deg C (55 deg F).

Monday:
A wet start for many, but rain soon becomes lighter and then largely clears through the morning. Becoming drier for all through the afternoon but remaining cloudy. Maximum temperature 18 deg C (64 deg F).

Outlook for Tuesday to Thursday:
A wet start Tuesday, with rain and showers, possibly thundery, before becoming drier later. Drier and brighter Wednesday and Thursday, with the odd isolated shower; feeling warm in any sun.
